Construction Experts

When you need an expert, Druml Group's knowledge and construction expertise is the answer. Our staff consists of former owners and managers of construction firms. We know how to interpret specifications and have the knowledge to testify to industry practices.

As non-testifying experts, we're known for closely analyzing a claim's technical details for completeness and accuracy. If there are any holes in the logic or missing details, you'll know the merit of a claim long before stepping foot into a court room.

Claim Preparation

A winning claim has a strong legal foundation and an airtight argument. Druml Group's ability to collect the facts and accurately restate history is second to none. Claims we prepare are precise, narratives are detailed, and exhibits and graphics are persuasive. Working together with attorneys, we provide contractors the best chance for a favorable outcome.
